Seminar: American Psycho

Monday, July 6 at 6:15pm

Instructor: Sophie Blum, Coolidge Director of Education

Discuss this subversive slasher movie's enduring appeal to Zoomer audiences and its legacy of satire and spectacle. Just what makes Patrick Bateman so meme-able? Where do you stand in the debate between artistic intent and audience impact? We'll consider historical context, Mary Harron's body of work, and pleasure vs. condemnation.

Seminar: Some Like It Hot

Sunday, July 19 at 1:15pm

Instructor: Kyle Stevens, Associate Professor of Film Studies at Appalachian State University

Some Like it Hot features Marilyn Monroe's iconic performance as the glamorous, poignant jazz singer Sweet Sue. Come learn about Monroe's method and how the film's fascination with 1920s jazz is shaped by director Billy Wilder's youth as a Jewish boy growing up in Vienna.

Seminar: Dragon Inn

Thursday, August 13 at 6:15pm

Instructor: Cass Clarke, writer and film critic

An introduction to wuxia's second wave, when filmmakers like King Hu modernized the genre through wire-work, acrobatics, and challenging fight choreography—transforming the genre into technically daring blockbuster feats that paved the way for Hollywood to fall in love with Ang Lee's Crouching Tiger, Hidden Dragon decades later.

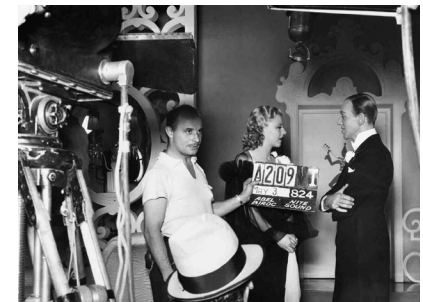

Seminar: Top Hat

Monday, August 31 at 6:15pm

Instructor: Dr. Ilya Vidrin, choreographer, researcher, and educator

Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers made ten films together, but Top Hat remains the pair's most beloved collaboration and one of the defining achievements of the Hollywood musical. We'll explore how the film's influence can still be felt in movie musicals today.

THE SCREENS

What you see:

friendly faces, red velvet curtains,
the magic of movies on the big screen

What you don't see:

everything happening behind the scenes to keep our beloved movie palace running

Go behind the screens with us to find out more ways you can support your local, nonprofit, independent theatre.
